Contra Notes : The two rows will start facing each other. You should be positioned so that you're facing the gap in the opposite row and your partner is to the left of the gap. The Contra elements only take effect during the Walls where the rows start facing each other (i.e. odd numbered walls). During Section 2, the rows should pass through each other, then turn around to face each other. During Section 6, you should link left arms with your partner as you walk around.
